Chapter 132

132. Riding Horses

- 132.010 Definition. As used in this chapter, "riding horse" means any horse which is used primarily for riding.
- 132.020 Minimum Acreage. Each riding horse kept within the City shall be maintained on at least one acre of land per horse, and the land where such horse is kept shall be (1) entirely fenced so as to contain the horse within such land; and (2) adequately drained so as to cause no health hazard or nuisance to adjacent property.
- The fence in (1) above shall be constructed within all zoning setback lines and be more than one hundred (100) feet from any adjacent residential structure.
- 132.030 Control by Owner. No person shall allow a riding horse to be off the owner's or keeper's land unless the riding horse is under the immediate control of the owner or of the person having possession of same.
- 132.040 Zoning. No riding horse shall be kept except upon land which specifically permits keeping of a horse under the zoning code.
